Dear Parents/Guardians,

Parent-teacher conferences play an important role in school-home communication. The conferences are designed to increase the quality of parent-teacher communication and interaction focused on student learning and achievement.

Enclosed are a few helpful materials to aid you in discussion with your student's teacher. We hope you find this information to be a useful tool to prepare you for your next Parent-teacher conference. Remember, you can always contact your child's teacher, guidance counselor or principal if you have any questions or concerns.

Thank you,

Anissa Andrews
